

It's time for sending my pledge to you, the best of the best for you've built the love bridge that stands way above the rest so, sweetheart, when it arrives hold it in your heart's archives:

I'm going to be with you
forever and ever more,
I'm going
to join you
so we'll have a life galore, I'm going
to always try
to stick to you like your own shadow, I'm going
to bestow on you
love as tender as that of the meadow, I'm going
to kiss you
with all the passion of the world, I'm going
to love you
with love as eternal as the Lord, I'm going
to hold you
so tight as the baby in his mother's womb, I'm going
to cherish you
deep inside till the day I go into my tomb, I'm going
to present you
with the warmest treasures of my heart.
I'm going
to give you
all moments of my life until death do us part.
